

Roberta Bravi

ANCDV – Associazione Nazionale Controllo Di Vicinato

Roma, Italia

34 years old, lawyer, she has been taking care about security, legality, voluntary work and participation for over 15 years.

After the Higher Degree in Law she obtained a Master in International Law in armed conflicts at the C.O.A. (Air Operations Centre) on its base in Poggio Renatico (FE).

Specialized in Judiciary Legal Professions, currently she works as Organizational & HR Manager at the professional training institute "Beta Formazione". Now she is specializing in legal studies on Public Administration and Management. She is Advisor at the local town Council, and there has wrote three municipal regulations: the Citizen Involvement Regulation, the Redevelopment of Common Properties Regulation and the Neighbourhood Watch Regulation. She is member of the District Coordination Table, established at the Ravenna's Prefecture for the monitoring, counteract and prevention of criminal actions against animals.

In 2015 she developed the Neighbourhood Watch Program at her city and towns enclosed into Ravenna District, founding, with three other citizens, the Committee for Shared Security and Social Territory Watch that she coordinates. They have created a very dense network of Neighbourhood Watch groups in the whole Romagna's countries (in the district of Ravenna, Forlì-Cesena, Rimini and Bologna). Today she's among the founders of the national network of neighbourhood watch (ANCDV), as Secretary. At the same time she is the President of local animals & environment's Guards, in Lugo. She is also Vice-president of "For Others" (the official Voluntary Service Centre for the whole Ravenna's district).

She strongly believes in extended network of neighbourhood watch and comparative actions to achieve common goals.